

Norm, Richard and the Juniper gang would like to offer you “new year’s” greetings, in recognition that the year really begins after Labour Day and with the return of the kids to school. The harvest and the autumn bring new flavours to Juniper’s menu and offerings to the dining room.

If you haven’t checked out Juniper’s website lately, take a look at what’s new. The website now offers on-line reservations, with space for notations on any special requests and you can also purchase gift certificates on-line. Also, we will be posting an ongoing calendar of special events and dates to note on Juniper’s schedule.

Juniper is pleased to welcome Eric Belchamber to our team as Sommelier. He is available on Friday and Saturday nights to discuss wine and food pairings and suggest wine for your dining experience. He has dramatically expanded Juniper’s selection of Canadian wine, including new wines from Prince Edward County. He has also increased the number of wines available by-the-glass. Eric will also be hosting region-themed monthly wine dinners on the last Tuesday of every month beginning in the new year. Only 16 seats will be available for each dinner, during which Eric will be discussing the nature of wine and food pairing, the selections that he is offering and introducing new wines. Watch your newsletters and our web site for information concerning these exciting dinners.

Juniper will be hosting a wine dinner featuring the wines of Alexander Valley on October 29th. Rob Elvy will be making a “vertical” selection of wines, some of which are otherwise unavailable to the public, from the Alexander Valley cellars. Juniper has developed a menu that will match the wine and offers a variety of flavours with each course. Details on the menu are now available on our website. Mark October 29th on your calendars and give Juniper a call to confirm your reservations. Seating will be limited.

Finally, a brief note in closing. While it might seem a long way away, Juniper has already begun to take reservations for the busy December season. If you are planning an intimate dinner and celebration of the season, our private dining room is available for groups of up to 20, while reservations of larger and smaller groups are available in the dining room. While there’s no need to run to the phone – or to the computer – a word to the wise: don’t put off your plans until it becomes too late.

Enjoy the autumn colours, the tastes and flavours of the harvest. We look forward to hosting you for many a harvest dinner.

Bon Appétit!
